

Why Johns Hopkins University for Cybersecurity?

The Johns Hopkins University Information Security Institute (JHUI SI) is a focal point for research and education in information security, assurance and privacy.

RESEARCH & TECHNOLOGY OR POLICY & MANAGEMENT TRACKS

JHUI SI's Masters of Science in Security Informatics (MSSI) degree program is instrumental in homeland security research and educational efforts, including emergency health preparedness, bio-terrorism and national defense.

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES INCLUDING THE INFORMATION SECURITY FELLOWSHIP

Why National Defense University iCollege?

Students who complete the Cyber-S 4011 and/or 4012 certificate programs can receive credit for up to 3 courses in the MSSI program.

CUTTING-EDGE
CYBERSECURITY
RESEARCH PROJECTS WITH WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

Please email jhuisi-info@jhu.edu for more information.

JOHNS HOPKINS
WHITING SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

Information Security Institute